Information regarding the right to participate and how to register for participation at the Extraordinary General Meeting of Embracer Group on 3 November 2025, can be found in the notice published on 8 October 2025 at Embracer Group's website.

BACKGROUND AND RATIONALE

On 22 April 2024, Embracer Group announced a transformative step for value creation through a separation of the Embracer Group into three market-leading games and entertainment companies: Asmodee, "Coffee Stain & Friends" and "Middle-Earth & Friends". The three entities were planned to be separate publicly listed companies, enabling each entity to better focus on their core strategies and offer more differentiated and distinct equity stories for existing and new shareholders. The aim was to enable the entities to unlock value in the high-quality assets of Embracer Group following the successful completion of the restructuring program announced in June 2023.

On 7 February 2025, Embracer Group successfully completed the first step of this process with the separation and listing of Asmodee's class B shares on Nasdaq Stockholm (main market).

On 22 May 2025, Embracer announced its proposed intention to distribute the shares of Coffee Stain Group and to list the class B shares on the Nasdaq First North Premier Growth Market in Stockholm by the end of calendar year 2025.

The Coffee Stain Group brings together Scandinavian game developers and publishers with a portfolio of community-driven games primarily for PC and console. It has a proven track record of building successful titles such as Goat Simulator, Satisfactory, Deep Rock Galactic, Valheim, Teardown and Welcome to Bloxburg. The Group consists of around 250 employees and 13 game studios including Coffee Stain, Ghost Ship and Tuxedo Labs.

The Distribution and Listing will allow the Coffee Stain Group to focus on its core strengths, delivering high quality community-driven experiences, focused capital allocation and creating opportunities to attract and enable partnerships with like-minded independent game developers and talents.

The first day of trading of the class B shares in Coffee Stain on Nasdaq First North Premier is expected to be no later than by the end of calendar year 2025.

INTRODUCTION

The global gaming industry is one of the largest segments within entertainment. Over the past decade, gaming has expanded, reaching a broad audience ranging from casual players to dedicated enthusiasts. The total market can be divided into three primary platforms: PC, Console, and Mobile, each with its own trends and drivers. Small-scale and indie developers have in recent years contributed at a large scale to innovation and diversity to the overall offering with their impact ranging from hobbyist creators experimenting with unique ideas to larger studios delivering near-AAA quality productions. This spectrum of approaches highlights how indie studios not only enrich the cultural and artistic fabric of gaming, but also increasingly influence their commercial growth and long-term market dynamics.

GAMING MARKET OVERVIEW

Gaming is part of the larger entertainment industry, sitting in the intersection between social entertainment, culture and consumer products. Gaming has expanded since 2022 and attracted a broad audience from casual players to dedicated enthusiasts.

Total market size, USDbn¹

The global gaming market is projected to reach USD 189 billion in 2025, segmented across three primary platforms – PC, Console and Mobile. The number of players is expected to grow to 3.6 billion in 2025, representing approximately 61.5% of the global population with internet access, with the majority engaging through mobile devices. The proportion of players relative to the online population is anticipated to remain stable. Despite this plateau in penetration, average spending per player continues to expand, with global willingness to pay growing at a faster pace than overall player growth.²

3) Newzoo, Global Games market report August 2025.

The global gaming market is projected to reach 3.6 billion players in 2025, reflecting a 4.4% year-on-year increase. By platform, mobile devices will dominate with approximately 3.0 billion players (83%), followed by 0.9 billion PC players (26%) and 0.6 billion console players (18%). Growth is expected to moderate beyond 2025, highlighting the sector’s maturity and the importance of monetization strategies. The number of players is expected to continue growing each year by similar levels, reaching 3.9 billion in 2028.¹

Player distribution by platform estimated 2025²

In 2025, while 53% of players are expected to engage on a single platform, a significant share already spans multiple ecosystems, with 31% playing on two platforms and 16% on all three. This demonstrates a clear trend toward multi-platform gaming, reflecting increasing consumer flexibility and broader engagement across PC, Console and Mobile.³

Communities have emerged as increasingly central to sustaining engagement and generating long-term value. According to Newzoo, early access, which is a playable pre-release version of a game, is no longer just a pre-launch tool but a way to involve players early, shaping development and building loyalty before full release. Post-launch strategies now rely heavily on maintaining active communities through updates, events and re-engagement campaigns, ensuring that titles remain relevant well beyond their initial sales window. Platforms like Roblox also illustrate how native developers leverage deep community ties to drive success, showing that cultural alignment and direct interaction with players are critical differentiators in today’s crowded market.

In recent years, AI has become a common tool in game development, with nearly nine out of ten developers using it in some capacity.⁴ These tools primarily support production efficiency, helping teams streamline workflows and handle repetitive tasks, while also assisting in content creation and the design process.⁵

MARKET SIZE AND DEVELOPMENT PER PLATFORM

PC market

PC market size, USDbn⁶

The global PC games market is projected to reach USD 40 billion in 2025, accounting for 21% of the total gaming market. Growth is fueled by expanding Steam adoption in China and Japan as well as a strong release slate. Western markets also benefit from high-profile launches, while esports engagement remains an additional driver. Looking ahead, momentum will be supported by rising Gen Z and Gen Alpha enthusiasm, higher average sales prices and the anticipated PC release of Grand Theft Auto VI in 2027, although growth in mature Western markets is expected to remain limited.⁷

Console market

Console market size, USDbn¹

The global Console games market is expected to generate USD 46 billion in 2025, accounting for 24% of the total gaming market. Growth is led by the launch of the Nintendo Switch 2, higher average software prices and a slate of major releases. Asia-Pacific, particularly Japan, drives the fastest growth, while North America remains the largest market by share. The upcoming release of Grand Theft Auto VI is expected to set sales records and accelerate Gen-9 console adoption. Despite stagnating player growth in mature markets, revenues are supported by content quality, subscription services and premium pricing strategies.²

Mobile market

Mobile market size, USDbn³

The global Mobile games market is forecast to reach USD 103 billion in 2025, accounting for 55% of the total gaming market, however it is expected to have the lowest growth of all primary platforms. Growth is sustained by the strong performance of 2024's top-grossing titles and continued expansion of Roblox. Structural drivers include rising smartphone penetration, improved mobile internet infrastructure and a growing middle class in emerging markets. At the same time, the accelerating shift toward direct-to-consumer distribution and alternative app stores reshapes monetization, expanding off-app store revenues and giving developers greater control player relationships and therefore costs. Some challenges on the global games market include the discoverability of individual games, new regulations impacting game publishing, and increased costs resulting from the growing D2C trend.⁴

INDIE GAMES MARKET OVERVIEW

The market can also be segmented by studio type, based on their scale and operating model. The indie games market consists of titles developed by independent studios, i.e. without financial or creative control from publishers, typically with smaller teams and budgets than major developers. Unlike large-scale AAA productions, indie games emphasize creativity, innovation, and niche appeal. The segment serves as an important source of experimentation within the broader global gaming industry.

The indie games market has experienced rapid expansion over the last years, even as the broader industry has slowed. Revenues have more than doubled since 2018, with indie titles on Steam now generating levels of income comparable to AA and AAA productions. However, the definition of “indie” has blurred, and market segmentation shows a spectrum ranging from small-scale hobby projects, releasing smaller creative projects, to well-funded studios capable of delivering AAA-level quality. The larger end of indie games has seen the strongest growth.⁵

Growth has also been fueled by increasing professionalization across the sector. More studios are releasing second or third games, which consistently outperform debut titles, showing that experience strongly improves commercial outcomes. While smaller teams still play an important role in innovation, the revenue distribution is increasingly concentrated at the top end of the market, highlighting both the opportunities and the competitive challenges within the indie space.⁶

BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

Introduction to Coffee Stain

Coffee Stain Group is a Scandinavian game developer and publisher, founded in 2010 with a portfolio of community-driven games primarily for PC and console, and with a proven track record of building successful intellectual properties including Goat Simulator, Satisfactory, Deep Rock Galactic, Valheim, Teardown and Welcome to Bloxburg. The Group consists of around 250¹ passionate individuals spread over 13 game studios including Coffee Stain, Ghost Ship and Tuxedo Labs – all united by the aspiration of “small teams making big games for huge audiences”.

Coffee Stain's history

Coffee Stain was founded in Skövde, Sweden, in 2010 with the goal to create innovative, player-centric games. The Company first gained international recognition with the launch of Goat Simulator (2014), which became a cultural phenomenon and established Coffee Stain's reputation for creativity and originality.

In the years that followed, Coffee Stain expanded its portfolio and publishing activities, supporting titles such as Deep Rock Galactic (2018), Satisfactory (2019) and Valheim (2021), which each achieved global reach and built highly engaged communities. The Group further broadened its capabilities through the integration of studios such as Ghost Ship Games (2021) and Tuxedo Labs (2025).

The upcoming spin-off enables Coffee Stain to operate with greater strategic focus and independence – allowing a culturally aligned group of studios to grow with autonomy and build lasting IPs over time. In line with this direction, Tuxedo Labs, Kavalri Games, Frame Break, Invisible Walls, and A Creative Endeavor was transferred from Embracer Group – all sharing Coffee Stain's development philosophy of lean teams, creative ownership, and long-term product thinking.

Over the past 15 years, Coffee Stain has grown into a group of diverse small independent studios with a strong portfolio of durable IPs, consistent profitability and a robust pipeline of future content.

COFFEE STAIN'S OPERATIONS

Coffee Stain consists of 13 studios based across Scandinavia that operate under a decentralized model with lean teams. The structure creates a capital-efficient ecosystem of autonomous studios that hold full accountability for development and continuous content updates, while the small central organization provides strategic and publishing support. As a developer driven by ideas, the company regards its people as its most valuable assets. Attracting best-in-class talent and empowering teams to take full creative responsibility are key to sustaining long-term success.

Coffee Stain develops and publishes a diversified portfolio of games across PC, Console and Mobile platforms, combining internal development with a selective partnership strategy. Its philosophy prioritizes gameplay quality and long-term community engagement, supported by early access, user-generated content and continuous updates. This approach has enabled the creation of enduring IPs, including six genre-leading titles with deeply engaged player communities.

The Company further operates as a strategic partner by identifying high-potential external projects at an early stage and fostering long term business relationships. This partnership model broadens the pipeline, enhances scalability and leverages the Group's industry expertise to drive sustainable growth.

Coffee Stain combines central oversight with decentralized studio responsibility. The Group sets the overall roadmap and strategy, facilitates knowledge sharing, and provides administrative support in areas such as finance, IT, legal, and HR while each studio is responsible for its own financial performance and for developing and executing game concepts. Functions that benefit from coordination, including marketing, player insights, and the dissemination of best practices, are handled jointly to create alignment and efficiency across the organization.

The developers within the Group are actively exploring various new tools, including AI. Being decentralized, Coffee Stain values independence but also encourages knowledge sharing, meaning no single set of tools or workflows are imposed. The different teams are encouraged to experiment and identify responsible, practical uses of new tools, including AI, to work more efficiently to improve games and community engagement. The approach prioritizes curiosity and flexibility over rigid rules, while remaining attentive to player perception and adjusting practices accordingly.

Finally, the Group is committed to ESG and operates with a strong governance framework and a responsible approach to ESG. Having been part of a main-market listed group, the Company follows transparent, risk-based governance practices. Employee well-being is prioritized, with a focus on developing safe games and fostering meaningful connections with communities. By the nature of its business, Coffee Stain has a limited environmental footprint, while continuing to emphasize sustainable long-term value creation.

COFFEE STAIN IN THE MARKET

Total number of games on Steam¹

The number of games released each year continues to rise, making it harder for individual titles to capture attention and achieve meaningful visibility. Despite this crowded landscape, Coffee Stain has consistently managed to break through, with its portfolio recognized for strong community reception and highly positive reviews. This ability to stand out demonstrates Coffee Stain's strength in delivering games that resonate with players and sustain engagement over time. Within the portfolio, 15 games have more than 500 reviews on Steam, five have over 50K reviews, and the average across all titles exceeds 75K reviews, led by Valheim with 510K, followed by Deep Rock Galactic with 354K and Satisfactory with 246K.²

In terms of market position, Coffee Stain's development approach shares several traits with the indie segment, particularly the emphasis on small, agile teams, iterative development, conservative resource allocation and strong reliance on player feedback throughout the process. Like many independent studios, the focus is on creativity, innovation and cultivating close relationships with communities. However, Coffee Stain differs from traditional indie developers through its scale, structure and financial discipline. The Group combines the flexibility and innovation of indie studios with the resources, publishing capabilities and long-term IP management, which are more typical of established publishers. The Company's smaller scale compared to AAA developers enables rapid pivots, efficient prototyping, and the pursuit of creative ideas that larger studios often avoid, resulting in a clear competitive advantage. This enables Coffee Stain to achieve global reach, sustain industry-leading profitability, and extend the commercial lifecycles of its titles well beyond what is common in the broader indie market. This has rendered in a unique brand identity, giving Coffee Stain a distinct niche in the market.

HOW COFFEE STAIN DEVELOPS GAMES WITH A LONG-TERM VIEW

Coffee Stain operates under a decentralized model, where agile teams in smaller studios are fully accountable for design, development and continuous updates, further supported by Coffee Stain's strategic guidance and publishing capabilities. This structure is reinforced by a "gameplay first" philosophy, which prioritizes content, quality and depth to deliver long-lasting novelty-driven and system-driven player experiences.

The development of games is conducted through an iterative process where independent studios drive ideas with accountability for quality, delivery and profitability. The Group supports with strategy, knowledge sharing and publishing, while community feedback is integrated throughout development. This structure ensures that games are continuously refined, supported with updates and sustained over time.

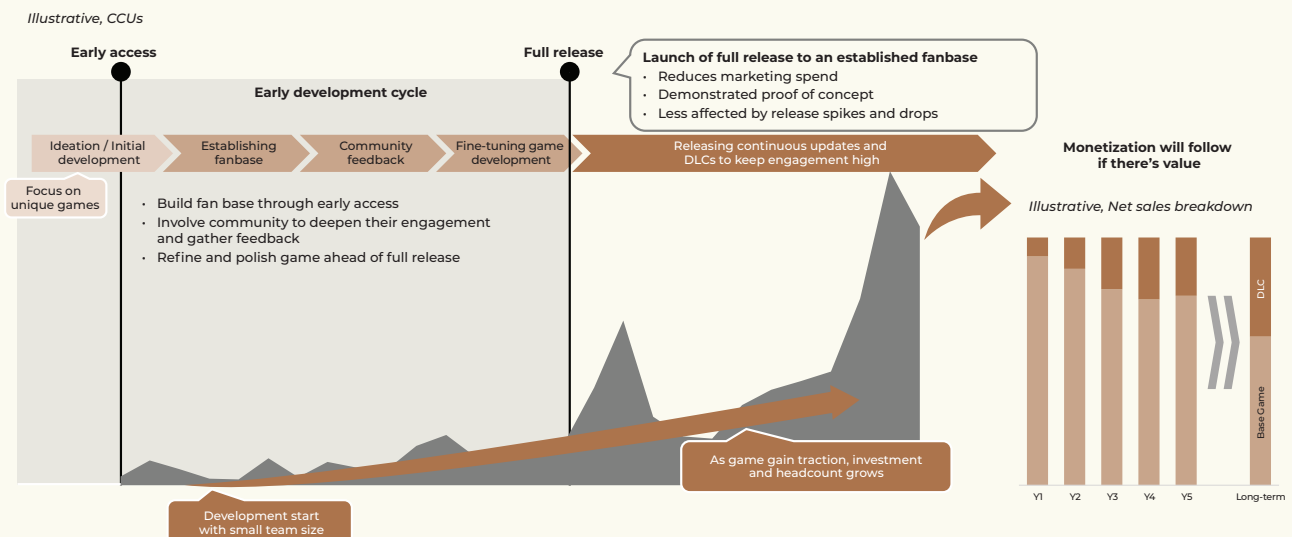

Development to publishing phases for Coffee Stain and studios

1. Studios are entrusted to pursue creative ideas
2. Each studio develops its games independently
3. Games are iteratively refined based on feedback from communities
4. Games are released, with support from Coffee Stain
5. Studios maintain responsible for post-launch updates, Downloadable Content (DLC) as well as overall game profitability

Coffee Stain typically involve players in early development, for example through features like Steam early access, which enables the integration of player feedback directly into the cycle, building trust and community engagement well ahead of full release. Launching into an established fanbase reduces marketing spending, demonstrates proof of concept, and mitigates release volatility. After full release, titles continue to grow through updates and DLC, securing long-term relevance and ability to turn quirky concepts into commercially viable IPs.

Graph over development phases to build up Concurrent users (CCUs)

Satisfactory clearly illustrates Coffee Stain’s development cycle, where an initial idea was shaped through community involvement and early access. Since its release, the game has been continuously updated with input from its player base, including new features, optimizations and user-generated content support. With almost five years in active development during early access, thousands of reviews, and a growing modding ecosystem, the title demonstrates how iteration, transparency and feedback integration result in a product that evolves together with its community until full release. Sustained player activity, reflected in CCU levels, drives sales performance, making continuous community engagement a key driver of commercial success.

ENGAGED COMMUNITIES

Coffee Stain places strong emphasis on engaged player communities, integrating them directly into the development process through early gameplay access where continuous feedback shapes game design. This close dialogue fosters trust, loyalty and alignment with community expectations, ultimately creating self-sustaining ecosystems that support long-term engagement and the commercial success of its titles. The same philosophy underpins a community-led marketing approach, which departs from traditional high-spend models by leveraging early access, social platforms and modding communities to drive organic growth, minimize upfront marketing costs and maximize word-of-mouth adoption.

STRENGTHS AND COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGES

Coffee Stain’s past performance as well as its ability to achieve its objectives is based on the following strengths, competitive advantages and opportunities.

Long track record with successful intellectual property combined with growth potential

For over more than a decade, the Group has created and scaled multiple globally recognized IPs. Its track record demonstrates the ability to consistently deliver innovative games that achieve long-term commercial success and cultural relevance. The Group’s portfolio is anchored in durable, community-driven franchises such as Goat Simulator, Satisfactory, Deep Rock Galactic, Valheim, Teardown and Welcome to Bloxburg. Approximately 90 percent of sales are generated by the Group’s six largest titles, each with an average age of more than seven years, illustrating the titles’ long lifecycles and sustained player engagement. The Group’s existing franchises offer significant potential for sequels, DLC and further platform expansion. Combined with a pipeline of new IPs, Coffee Stain is well positioned to capture long-term growth opportunities in the global gaming market.

Community driven model

Coffee Stain, with few exceptions, develops games by applying a long early access phase, enabling players to engage early in the process to drive community engagement. Feedback is incorporated continuously, which not only improves quality and reduces release risk but also allows monetization to begin ahead of full release. Communities grow organically during development, building strong loyalty and long-term engagement that carries into the lifecycle of the full release. This creates a foundation for extended revenues through updates, downloadable content and expansions. Coffee Stain’s approach, emphasizing early access, modding and user-generated content, creates strong feedback loops and resilient communities around each franchise.

Capital-efficient operating model

The Group’s strategy of small, multi-skilled teams, early testing and iterative development keeps upfront costs low while enabling rapid innovation. This capital-light approach combines creative freedom with financial responsibility, which has enabled the Group to sustain industry-leading profitability and strong free cash flow generation.

Goat Simulator

Developed by Coffee Stain Studios and first released in April 2014, Goat Simulator is a third-person sandbox game that began as a small parody project and unexpectedly grew into a global phenomenon. Presented as a tongue-in-cheek take on traditional simulation games, it lets players control a goat and wreak havoc in open environments with intentionally absurd physics and unpredictable outcomes. The game deliberately embraces bugs, slapstick chaos, and emergent gameplay over structured goals, inviting players to experiment, explore, and create their own fun. What began as a joke release has grown into a full franchise with multiple spin-offs. With the sequel Goat Simulator 3, developed by Coffee Stain North, the series has secured its place as one of the most recognized and viral games ever.

Satisfactory

Developed by Coffee Stain Studios and first released in March 2019 (early access), Satisfactory is a first-person factory-building and automation game set on a vast alien planet. Players gather resources, design intricate production lines, and build sprawling industrial complexes that scale from small outposts to massive, planet-spanning factory systems.

The game blends engineering challenges with creative freedom, requiring players to optimize logistics, balance power systems, and explore hostile environments to unlock new technologies. Its combination of open-world exploration, cooperative multiplayer, and limitless construction possibilities has made Satisfactory one of the most celebrated modern factory sims, with an enduring community of players continuously pushing the boundaries of efficiency and creativity.

Deep Rock Galactic

Developed by Ghost Ship Games and released in May 2020 (following early access in February 2018), Deep Rock Galactic is a cooperative first-person shooter built around mining, exploration, and teamwork. Players take on the roles of space-faring dwarves working for an interstellar mining corporation, descending into procedurally generated cave systems filled with hostile alien creatures and valuable resources.

The game combines class-based abilities, fully destructible environments, and mission-based objectives, making every expedition a mix of intense combat, resource management, and coordinated strategy. Over time, Deep Rock Galactic has grown into a beloved live-service title with an active community, praised for its humor, re-playability, and dedication to player-driven updates and expansions.

Teardown

Developed by Tuxedo Labs and released in April 2022 (following early access in October 2020), Teardown is a physics-driven sandbox game centered on creative destruction and problem-solving. Built entirely on a proprietary voxel-based engine, it allows players to interact with fully destructible environments where every wall, object, and structure can be dismantled.

The game's campaign revolves around heist-style missions, where players must carefully plan and improvise their approaches whether by demolishing buildings, creating shortcuts, or constructing elaborate escape routes. Beyond its single-player experience, Teardown has become a platform for creativity through modding, user-generated content, and ongoing expansions, including premium DLC and upcoming multiplayer functionality. Its groundbreaking destruction technology and commitment to long-term support have cemented it as a standout example of how technical innovation fuels player-driven gameplay.

Welcome to Bloxburg

Released in November 2014, Welcome to Bloxburg is a life-simulation sandbox RPG created within the Roblox platform. It gives players the freedom to build and customize houses, take on jobs, earn in-game currency, and roleplay in a persistent online city.

The game emphasizes creativity, social interaction, and long-term engagement, with millions of players designing unique homes, forming communities, and crafting personal stories. Over the years, Welcome to Bloxburg has become one of Roblox's most iconic experiences, blending user-driven content with sandbox systems that encourage both casual play and deep immersion in its vibrant social world.

Valheim – Through partnership model

Developed by Iron Gate Studio and released in February 2021, Valheim is a survival and exploration game inspired by Norse mythology. Players awake in a procedurally generated world where they must gather resources, craft tools and weapons, build settlements, and face mythological beasts. Progression is tied to defeating powerful bosses, which unlock new tiers of technology and challenges.

Supporting both single-player and cooperative multiplayer, Valheim strikes a balance between combat, exploration, construction, and survival, giving players the freedom to carve their own path in a hostile but beautiful world. The game has become one of the most successful indie titles of its generation, selling millions of copies worldwide.

Valheim is also a leading example of Coffee Stain's partnership model: Coffee Stain holds a 30% ownership stake (approximately 50% economics as an effect of the ownership combined with publishing) in Iron Gate Studio, while Iron Gate retains full control of intellectual property and creative vision. Through this partnership, Coffee Stain provides publishing expertise and long-term support, helping the title reach its full potential while enabling the developer to remain independent.

GROWTH AVENUES

Coffee Stain's growth avenues can be divided into two sections: focus avenues and additional potential avenues. Focus avenues include the development of the existing portfolio, particularly the six core titles that are continuously expanded through additional content and platform adaptations to broaden their reach. The performance of these titles allows for continuous resource allocation and investments in new IPs, which, if they gain traction, can be scaled up and integrated into the Coffee Stain model. New IPs also support sustained community engagement and the attraction of new players. Potential avenues are considered on a selective basis and include selected M&A and partnership opportunities, primarily with studios already connected through publishing. Transmedia and licensing initiatives can also be explored, but these are regarded as supplementary rather than core activities

The upcoming consoles, labelled as Gen 10 consoles, are built with architectures more comparable to gaming PCs, making the transition of titles between platforms less resource intensive. At the same time, the rise of remote play allows resource demanding games to be enjoyed on simpler devices, such as phones, through cloud infrastructure. For Coffee Stain, this means less complex porting, broader platform presence and direct access to a larger pool of potential players.

DIVIDEND POLICY

The Group's aim is to distribute excess liquidity to shareholders, while maintaining a strong financial position. The long-term principle is for capital to be allocated to investments in sustainable organic growth, value-creating M&A and to return excess capital to shareholders. The Board of Directors shall each year evaluate the possibility of distributing a dividend after taking into account the development of the business as well as its operating profit and financial position.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

The Group's corporate structure

The Group is structured around a portfolio of 13 majority owned studios focused on PC & Console and Mobile. In total there are around 250 full-time equivalents (FTEs) within the Group as of 30 June 2025.

KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS (KPIs)

The Board of Directors and management of Coffee Stain believes that it is important to separate the operational performance of the business from the acquisition part. Certain KPIs are used to accomplish and give internal and external stakeholders the best picture of the underlying operational performance of the business, by the measurement of performance excluding specific items related to historical acquisitions and items affecting comparability. The individual KPIs, definitions, purpose are described more in detail below.

These KPIs, as defined by Coffee Stain, should not be compared to other similarly titled performance measures used by other companies. This is because the aforementioned performance measures are not always defined in the same way and other companies may calculate them in a different way. SHARE CAPITAL AND OWNERSHIP STRUCTURE IN COFFEE STAIN

GENERAL INFORMATION REGARDING THE SHARES OF THE COMPANY

In accordance with the Company's articles of association, the share capital may not be less than SEK 25,000 and may not exceed SEK 100,000, and the number of shares may not be less than 250 and may not exceed 1,000 shares.

As of the date of the Information Brochure, the registered share capital of the Company amounted to SEK 25,000 among 250 shares and each share had a quota value of SEK 100. The share capital and number of shares (including a class A and B share structure) and conversion to a public limited liability company, will prior to the Distribution be registered with the Swedish Companies Registration Office to enable the Distribution and the envisaged distribution ratio described in the section "Information regarding the Distribution of Coffee Stain".

The shares in the Company have been issued in accordance with Swedish law. All issued shares are fully paid and freely transferable. The information on the ISIN code for Coffee Stain's class B share will be contained in the Company Description that is to be published ahead of the listing of Coffee Stain's class B shares. The shares of the Company are denominated in SEK.

CERTAIN RIGHTS ASSOCIATED WITH THE SHARES

The Company will upon the Distribution and Listing have two share classes outstanding, class A shares carrying ten votes per share and class B shares carrying one vote per share. Only the class B shares will be listed on Nasdaq First North Premier.

The rights attached to the shares issued by the Company, including the rights pursuant to the Company's articles of association, may only be amended in accordance with the procedures set out in the Swedish Companies Act.

PREFERENTIAL RIGHTS TO NEW SHARES, ETC.

If the Company decides to issue new class A shares and class B shares against cash or set-off of claim, owners of class A shares and class B shares shall have preferential right to subscribe for new shares of the same class of shares in proportion to the number of shares they already hold (primary preferential right). Shares which have not been subscribed for by primary preferential right shall be offered to all shareholders for subscription (secondary preferential right). Unless the shares thus offered are sufficient for the subscription under the secondary preferential right, the shares shall be allocated between the subscribers in proportion to the number of shares they already hold and, to the extent this is not possible, by drawing of lots.

If the Company decides to issue only class A shares or only class B shares against cash or set off of claim, all shareholders shall have a preferential right to subscribe for new shares in proportion to the number of shares they already hold, irrespective of whether they hold class A shares or class B shares.

The above shall not imply any restriction in the possibility to decide on a new share issue against cash or set off of claim, with derogation from the shareholders' preferential right.

If the Company decides to issue warrants or convertibles against cash or set-off of claim, the shareholders have a preferential right to subscribe for warrants as though the issue concerned those shares which might be subscribed for on account of the option and a preferential right to subscribe for convertibles as though the issue concerned those shares which the convertibles may be exchanged to, respectively.

If the share capital is raised through a bonus issue, new shares shall be issued of each class of shares in proportion to the existing number of shares of the same class. Old shares of a certain class of shares shall entail a right to new shares of the same class of shares in relation to its proportion of the share capital. The above shall not imply any restriction in the possibility to carry out a bonus issue and, after necessary change in the articles of association, issue new shares of a new class.

Voting rights

Class A shares entitles the holder to ten votes per share at general meetings, while class B shares entitles the holder to one vote per share at general meetings. Each shareholder is entitled to cast votes for all its shares at general meetings.

Right to dividends and balances in the event of liquidation

All shares carry equal rights to dividends and to the Company's assets and any surplus in the event of liquidation. Decisions regarding dividends in Swedish limited liability companies are made by the general meeting. Entitlement to receive dividends accrues to those who, on the record date adopted by the general meeting, are registered as shareholders in the share register maintained by Euroclear. Dividends are normally distributed to the shareholders as a cash amount per share through Euroclear but may also be distributed in forms other than cash (distribution in kind). Should a shareholder be unable to be reached through Euroclear, the shareholder will continue to have a claim against the Company with regard to the dividend amount, limited in time pursuant to a ten-year statute of limitation. Should the claim become barred by the statute of limitation, the dividend amount accrues to the Company.

No restrictions on the right to receive dividends apply to shareholders residing outside of Sweden. With reservation for any limitations imposed by banks and clearing systems in the jurisdictions concerned, distributions to such shareholders are conducted in the same manner as to shareholders in Sweden. Shareholders who are not subjects to taxation in Sweden are usually subject to Swedish withholding tax.

Conversion of class A shares

Owners of class A shares may demand that all or a part of their class A shares be converted into class B shares. Such request of conversion shall be made in writing to the Company's Board of Directors. The conversion is executed at the time for registration and when it has been noted in the Company's share register.

CENTRAL SECURITIES DEPOSITORY

The shares in the Company will be registered in a central securities depository register in accordance with the Swedish Central Securities Depositories and Financial Instruments Accounts Act (1998:1479). This register is maintained by Euroclear, Box 191, 101 23 Stockholm, Sweden.

RISK FACTORS ASSOCIATED WITH THE DISTRIBUTION OF COFFEE STAIN

Below is a brief outline of certain risk factors related to the Distribution of the shares in Coffee Stain. A more detailed description of the risks relating to Coffee Stain and its shares will be included in the Company Description to be published prior to the listing of Coffee Stain on Nasdaq First North Premier.

THE DISTRIBUTION MAY FAIL TO REALIZE ANTICIPATED BENEFITS

The intended purpose of the proposed separation of Coffee Stain from Embracer Group is to allow Coffee Stain to focus on its core strengths, delivering high quality community-driven experiences, focused capital allocation and creating opportunities to attract and enable partnerships with like-minded independent game developers and talents. However, there is a risk that the anticipated benefits of the Distribution will not be achieved if the assumptions underlying the decision to carry out the Distribution turn out to be incorrect, or if the anticipated benefits or underlying drivers have been overestimated. For example, Coffee Stain, as a stand-alone company, may not be able to procure external financing or other financial services on conditions as favorable as those obtainable by Embracer Group before the Distribution. There is also a risk that the investors' appetite in investing directly in Coffee Stain is overestimated, thus causing the share price in Coffee Stain to develop unfavorably following the admission to trading of Coffee Stain's shares on Nasdaq First North Premier. Moreover, to the extent that Coffee Stain as a standalone company incurs additional costs or achieves lower sales, its business, financial position and results of operations could be adversely affected and the anticipated benefits from the Distribution could fail to be realized.

THE DISTRIBUTION MAY AFFECT THE PRICE OF BOTH EMBRACER GROUP AND COFFEE STAIN'S SHARES

The Distribution of Coffee Stain involves the creation of an independent group consisting of operations and assets that generated approximately 5 percent of Embracer Group's net sales for the financial year ended 31 March 2025. It is impossible to predict the market price of the shares of Embracer Group and Coffee Stain as standalone companies or whether their aggregate share price would exceed the share price of Embracer Group as currently constituted. The Distribution may also have an effect on the individual companies' financial position and risk profile as well as other conditions for conducting their respective business. There is a risk that the market will not react favorably to the Distribution and that investors may perceive the standalone companies less favorably than the Embracer Group, as currently constituted.

CERTAIN SWEDISH TAX CONSIDERATIONS

The following is a general description of certain tax considerations relating to the distribution of shares in Coffee Stain to the shareholders of Embracer Group. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations, neither in Sweden, the United States or elsewhere. The tax treatment of each individual shareholder depends on the shareholder's particular circumstances and the tax laws in the country where the shareholder is resident for tax purposes. Each shareholder should therefore consult its own tax adviser with regard to the specific tax consequences that may arise in the individual case. This summary is based upon the laws and regulations in effect as of the date of this Information Brochure and does not consider changes in laws or regulations effective, sometimes with retroactive effect, after such date.

CERTAIN TAX CONSIDERATIONS IN SWEDEN

The following is a summary of certain Swedish tax consequences that may arise from the distribution of shares in Coffee Stain to shareholders of Embracer Group. The summary is based on current legislation and only provide general information applicable to individuals and limited liability companies (Sw. aktiebolag) resident in Sweden for tax purposes, unless otherwise stated. The summary does not cover: (i) shares held by partnerships or as current assets in business operations (Sw. lagertillgångar); (ii) the specific rules concerning tax-exempt capital gains (including non-deductibility for capital losses) and dividends in the corporate sector in case shares are deemed to be held for business reasons under the Swedish participation exemption regime (Sw. näringsbetingade andelar); (iii) shares that are held in an investment savings account (Sw. investeringssparkonto) or endowment insurance (Sw. kapitalförsäkring), which are both subject to notional taxation; or (iv) special tax rules applicable to certain investors (e.g. investment funds and insurance companies). The tax consequences for each individual shareholder will ultimately depend on the holder's particular circumstances. Each shareholder should therefore consult a tax adviser regarding the specific tax consequences that may arise in the individual case, including (but not limited to) the applicability and effect of foreign tax rules and tax treaties.

INDIVIDUALS

Taxation of the distribution of Coffee Stain

It is expected that the distribution of the shares in Coffee Stain will fulfill the requirements set out in the so-called "Lex Asea" rules. The distribution of Coffee Stain's shares to Embracer Group's shareholders will therefore not trigger any immediate taxation. Shareholders in Embracer Group entitled to participate in the distribution will have the tax basis in their Embracer Group shares allocated among these shares and the shares received in Coffee Stain. The allocation of the tax basis will be based on the change in value of the Embracer Group shares due to the distribution of the shares in Coffee Stain. Embracer Group will request general guidelines from the Swedish Tax Agency (Sw. Skatteverket) concerning how this tax basis should be allocated and these guidelines will be published on the websites of Embracer Group, Coffee Stain and the Swedish Tax Agency as soon as possible.

Taxation of dividends with regard to Coffee Stain shares

Dividend distributions pertaining to listed shares are taxed as capital income at a rate of 30 percent. A preliminary tax of 30 percent is withheld on dividends distributed to individuals tax resident in Sweden. The preliminary tax is withheld by Euroclear Sweden or, in respect of nominee registered shares, by the Swedish nominee.

Thus, dividend distributed by Coffee Stain will be treated equivalent to dividend distributed by Embracer provided they are equivalently held.

Capital gains taxation upon disposal of Coffee Stain shares

A sale or other disposal of listed shares will result in a taxable capital gain or a deductible capital loss. Capital gains are taxed as capital income at a rate of 30 percent. The capital gain or loss is generally calculated as the difference between the sales proceeds, reduced by sales costs, and the tax basis. The tax basis for all shares of the same class and type is calculated together in accordance with the "average cost method" (Sw. genomsnittsmetoden). Alternatively, upon the sale of listed shares, the tax basis may be determined as 20 percent of the sales proceeds, after deducting sales costs, under the "standard method" (Sw. schablonmetoden). The acquisition cost, and thus the tax basis, for the shares received in Coffee Stain through the distribution from Embracer Group is calculated based on the general guidelines received from the Swedish Tax Agency (see "Taxation of the distribution of Coffee Stain" above).

Capital losses can be fully offset against taxable capital gains on listed and non-listed shares and other listed equity-related securities with the exception of units in securities funds or special funds that consist solely of Swedish receivables (Sw. räntefonder). Capital losses not absorbed by these set-off rules are deductible at 70 percent in the capital income category. If there is a net loss in the capital income category, a tax reduction is allowed against municipal and national income tax, as well as against real estate tax and municipal real estate charges. This tax reduction is granted at 30 percent of the net loss that does not exceed SEK 100,000 and at 21 percent of any remaining net loss. An excess net loss cannot be carried forward.

Taxation upon the disposal of shares and fractions of shares in Coffee Stain

The disposal of Coffee Stain shares received will result in capital gains taxation. The same applies to shareholders who receive fractions of Coffee Stain shares that are subsequently sold for their account. The capital gain or capital loss is calculated as the difference between the sales price, after deducting selling expenses, and the tax basis (consisting of, inter alia, the acquisition cost). The acquisition cost of the Coffee Stain shares received by the distribution will be determined based on the general guidelines that the Swedish Tax Agency will render. The acquisition cost of each fraction of a Coffee Stain share should be the corresponding portion of the acquisition cost of a Coffee Stain share established on the basis of the Swedish Tax Agency's guidelines. Since the shares in Coffee Stain will be listed on the stock market, the tax basis of these shares may alternatively be determined at 20 percent of the net sales revenue, using the standard method.

LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES

Taxation of the distribution of Coffee Stain shares

Since it is expected that the distribution of the shares in Coffee Stain will fulfill the requirements set out in the so-called "Lex Asea" rules the distribution will not give rise to any immediate taxation. Please refer to the corresponding section regarding individuals for the determination of tax basis in the Coffee Stain shares.

Taxation of dividends and capital gains with regard to Coffee Stain shares

For Swedish limited liability companies, all income, including taxable capital gains and dividends, is taxed as business income at a rate of 20.6 percent. Capital gains and capital losses are calculated in the same manner as described above for individuals. Deductible capital losses on shares or other equity-related securities may only be deducted against taxable capital gains on such securities. Under certain circumstances, such capital losses may also be offset against capital gains in another company in the same group, provided that the requirements for group consolidation (Sw. koncernbidragsrätt) are met. A capital loss that cannot be utilized during a given income year may be carried forward indefinitely and offset against taxable capital gains on shares and other equity-related securities during future income years.

SPECIFIC TAX CONSIDERATIONS FOR SHAREHOLDERS WHO ARE NOT TAX RESIDENTS IN SWEDEN

Taxation of the distribution of Coffee Stain

Even though it is expected that the distribution of the shares in Coffee Stain will fulfill the requirements set out in the so-called "Lex Asea" rules, shareholders who are not tax resident in Sweden may, however, be subject to taxation in their country of residence.

Withholding tax on dividends

Since it is expected that the distribution of the shares in Coffee Stain will fulfill the requirements set out in the so-called "Lex Asea" rules no Swedish withholding tax will be levied on the distribution.

Future dividend distributions received from Coffee Stain will generally be subject to Swedish withholding tax. The withholding tax rate is 30 percent but it is often reduced for shareholders who are tax resident in countries with which Sweden has entered into a tax treaty. In Sweden, Euroclear Sweden or, for nominee registered shares, the nominee, carries out the withholding.

In the event that 30 percent withholding tax is deducted from a payment to a person entitled to be taxed at a lower rate, or if too much withholding tax has otherwise been withheld, a refund can be claimed from the Swedish Tax Agency prior to the expiry of the fifth calendar year following the dividend distribution.

Capital gains taxation upon disposal of Coffee Stain shares

Shareholders who are not tax residents in Sweden and whose shareholding is not attributable to a permanent establishment in Sweden, are generally not subject to capital gains taxation in Sweden upon the disposal of shares. The shareholder may, however, be subject to taxation in their country of residence. Under a specific tax rule, individuals who are not tax residents in Sweden may, however, be subject to tax in Sweden on the sale of shares if they have been resident or lived permanently in Sweden at any time during the calendar year of such disposal or during any of the previous ten calendar years. The application of this rule may be limited by tax treaties between Sweden and other countries.
